Study Figure 3, a photograph of a street class run by volunteers in Mexico City.

June 2023, Paper 2, Figure 3

To what extent has urban growth created social opportunities? Use Figure 3 and a LIC/NEE example you have studied.

Plan (5 min)

What Figure 3 shows (one detail)	My case study: city and one specific fact	A limit: who misses out?	Judgement: to what extent?

Self-check (5 min)

□ I used a detail from the photo (e.g. the class is on the street, run by volunteers).

□ I named my case-study city and gave a specific fact (a number, a place, a project).

□ I explained how urban growth creates the opportunity (education, health, jobs).

□ I showed a limit: not everyone gets it, or it is informal.

□ I finished with a judgement: "to a large extent / to some extent… because…".

AQA mark scheme: June 2023, Q01.6 (6 marks)

- Level 3 (5–6, detailed): detailed understanding of the relationship between urban growth and the opportunities offered; thorough analysis of the figure and another example.
- Level 2 (3–4, clear): clear understanding of the relationship; some analysis of the figure and/or another example.
- Level 1 (1–2, basic): limited understanding; limited analysis of the figure and/or another example.

Max Level 2 if you used only Figure 3, or only your own example.

What examiners credit: the informal nature of some education and the existence of schooling even if small (from the photo); volunteer teachers; children can attend school where none were available in the rural areas they migrated from (e.g. 68% secondary education in Lagos versus 60% primary in rural northern Nigeria); projects with an education element (e.g. the floating school in Makoko, Lagos); job training (e.g. the Favela Bairro scheme); better water supply in cities (e.g. 75% in Lagos versus 42% in rural Nigeria), so fewer water-borne diseases; strong sense of community (e.g. Dharavi, Mumbai); jobs, even informal ones, only if linked to better food, housing or education.
