Story Detective: The Missing Socks

On Monday, Ella's red sock went missing from the washing line. On Tuesday, her blue sock went missing too. Ella was puzzled. “Socks can't walk,” she said.

On Wednesday, Ella hid behind the shed and watched. A little brown dog crept into the garden, jumped up and pulled a stripy sock off the line!

Ella followed the dog next door. In its basket were lots of socks: red, blue and stripy. The stripy sock was the softest of them all, so the puppy was fast asleep on it.
