Ember · About 15 minutes · 6 marks

Date: _____

Skill: case-study evidence plus a judgement. Use Curitiba as your example. Each point: evidence → so what for sustainability. Then one limit, then your judgement.

Plan (5 min)

Curitiba evidence (T1, T2 ...)	So what? (environmental, social, economic)	How important? Any limit?

AQA Geography 8035/2, November 2020 series (June 2020 paper), Q01.8 [6 marks]

Assess the importance of managing transport as part of urban sustainability.

Self-check (5 min)

□ Two or more specific Curitiba facts.

□ Each one linked to sustainability with “so…” or “which means…”.

□ One limit (crowded buses, more cars, settlements on the edge).

□ A clear judgement at the end: how important, and why.

□ Reflection: where on the levels below is my answer? What one thing would move it up?

AQA mark scheme (8035/2, Q01.8): levels

- Level 3 (5–6): “Shows detailed understanding of the relationship between managing transport and urban sustainability.” “…well developed assessment of the importance of managing transport as an urban sustainability strategy.”
- Level 2 (3–4): “Shows clear understanding…” “…clear assessment…”. “Partial overall assessment or a stronger assessment of one aspect.”
- Level 1 (1–2): “Shows limited understanding…” “…simple assessment of the link between managing transport and urban sustainability, or merely assert its value.”

AQA indicative content (selected)

- “Full marks possible for well-developed consideration of one transport strategy.”
- “Credit both environmental, economic and social sustainability.”
- “Promoting public transport will reduce congestion which will result in lower emissions and improved air quality … making cities more ‘liveable’.”
- “Reducing congestion will improve travel times meaning that people are less likely to be late for work and products delivered on time so businesses are able to maintain their income.”
